

Scriven County Library News 9-21-22

We know that all of our patrons have been asking one question: when is the library going to reopen for normal service? The answer is still “we don’t know” – but progress is being made, and we are at last able to see the light at the end of the tunnel! Keep your eyes open here, at the library’s SCL Power Outage page at <http://www.sjrls.org/scl-power-outage.html> , and on the library’s Facebook page at www.facebook.com/scrivencountylibrary to find out more as we get closer to the finish line!

September is almost over – how have you celebrated Library Card Sign Up Month? We’ve been doing it by signing people up for new library cards, of course, but we’d love it if you would tell people you know all about the wonderful benefits you get when you use your PINES library card! From the books, audiobooks, and movies available to check out, to the amazing items available in our Library of Things, to Libby’s wonderful selection of ebooks and downloadable audiobooks, to passes for free admission to state parks, historic sites, and various attractions, it’s incredible what you can do with your PINES library card!

A fun thing to do here at the library are our Crafts To Go kits! You can come up to the main desk and ask for them, then take them home and make them whenever is convenient for you. Best of all, they are free!

LOVING AND LIVING YOUR WAY THROUGH GRIEF: A COMPREHENSIVE GUIDE TO RECLAIMING AND CULTIVATING JOY AND CARRYING ON IN THE FACE OF LOSS by Emily Thiroux Threatt. So many of us have lost loved ones in the past few years, but how many of us understand how to process the pain of sorrow and learn to be happy again? Just as different people deal with grief in different ways, and exhibit different behaviors based on their reactions to loss, there are many ways to heal and move on. This book, broken down into sections that reflect the different things that people may struggle with, gives time-tested tips on how to work through your grief in a healthy manner.

Well, that’s all for now – see you at the library’s temporary home at OTC Scriven, across the street from the library!
